14. Brief biography

Henry Wai-chung Yeung received his Ph.D. from the University of Manchester in 1995. He was Distinguished Professor (and Professor of Economic Geography since 2005) at the Department of Geography, National University of Singapore until 31 December 2024. Since January 2025, he has been the Choh-Ming Li Professorship at the Department of Geography and Resource Management, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. His research interests cover broadly theories and the geography of transnational corporations, global production networks and global value chains, East Asian firms and developmental states in the global economy. In February 2022, the Regional Studies Association in the UK presented him with the 2022 Sir Peter Hall Award for Lifetime Contribution to the Field, “acknowledging and celebrating excellence in the field of regional studies”. Earlier in December 2017, he was selected by the American Association of Geographers to receive the AAG Distinguished Scholarship Honors for 2018 “in recognition of his extraordinary scholarship and leadership in the discipline”. Earlier in June 2017, he was conferred the Royal Geographical Society (with IBG) Murchison Award 2017 in the UK for “pioneering publications in the field of globalisation”. He was also a recipient of the inaugural University Research Recognition Award 2018 of the National University of Singapore, NUS Outstanding University Researcher Award (1998) and NUS Outstanding Researcher Award (2008), the Institute of British Geographers Economic Geography Research Group Best Published Paper Award (1998), the Commonwealth Fellowship (2002), the Fulbright Foreign Research Award (2003), and the Rockefeller Foundation’s Team Residency (2005) and Writing Resident Fellowship (2012-2013) in Bellagio. In September 2012 he was conferred Academician by the Academy of Social Sciences in the UK. He has also held honorary professorships at the University of Manchester (UK), Henan University (China), and the Chinese Academy of Sciences (China), and visiting professorships at the University of Hong Kong and the University of Sydney (Australia).

In July 2014, Professor Yeung (Principal Investigator) was awarded a US$4 million strategic grant by the National University of Singapore to establish the Global Production Networks Centre at NUS. Co-directed with Professor Neil Coe, this GPN@NUS Centre was established in October 2014 to pursue cutting-edge academic research during the grant tenure (till March 2020) and thereafter if future funding is secured.

To date, Professor Yeung has published widely on transnational corporations from East Asia, global production networks, and the political economy of development. His latest books are Theory and Explanation in Geography (RGS-IBG Book Series, Wiley, September 2023),

Interconnected Worlds: Global Electronics and Production Networks in East Asia (Innovation and Technology in the World Economy Series, Stanford University Press, Stanford, June 2022), Strategic Coupling: East Asian Industrial Transformation in the New Global Economy (Cornell Studies in Political Economy Series, Cornell University Press, Ithaca, May 2016), and Global Production Networks: Theorizing Economic Development in an Interconnected World (co-authored with Neil Coe and published by Oxford University Press, Oxford, April 2015). His previous monographs are Transnational Corporations and Business Networks (Routledge, London, 1998), Entrepreneurship and the Internationalisation of Asian Firms (Edward Elgar, Cheltenham, 2002) and Chinese Capitalism in a Global Era (Routledge, London, 2004). He is also co-author of Economic Geography: A Contemporary Introduction (Wiley-Blackwell, Oxford, 2007/2013/2020).

Apart from authoring these seven monographs and one textbook (3 editions), Professor Yeung is editor of The Globalisation of Business Firms from Emerging Markets, Two Volumes (Edward Elgar, Cheltenham, 1999) and Handbook of Research on Asian Business (Edward Elgar, Cheltenham, 2007), Globalizing Regional Development in East Asia (Routledge, London, 2010), and co-editor of Globalisation and the Asia Pacific: Contested Territories, (Routledge, London, 1999), Globalization of Chinese Business Firms (Macmillan, New York, 2000), Remaking the Global Economy: Economic-Geographical Perspectives (Sage, London, 2003), and Global Value Chains and Global Production Networks: Changes in the International Political Economy (Routledge, London, 2015). He serves as the economic geography section editor of almost 100 entries for the International Encyclopedia in Human Geography, 12 Volumes, Elsevier, 2009. He is also one of the ten Advisory Editors assisting the Editor-in-Chief of the International Encyclopedia of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Second Edition, 25 Volumes, Elsevier, April 2015.

Professor Yeung has 115 research papers published or forthcoming in internationally refereed journals and 50 chapters in books. He is Editor of Environment and Planning A (2001-now) and Economic Geography (2001-now), and Past Editor of Review of International Political Economy (2004-2013), Asia-Pacific Editor of Global Networks (2001-now), and Business Manager of Singapore Journal of Tropical Geography. He sits on the editorial boards of two book series for Cambridge University Press and Springer, and 16 other international journals in the fields of human geography, management, urban studies, area studies, and general social science, such as Regional Studies, European Urban and Regional Studies, The Professional Geographer, and Eurasian Geography and Economics. During 2003-2005, he was the East Asia Director, Asia Specialty Group of the American Association of Geographers. Between 2008 and 2015, he was a member of the Board of Trustees and Vice Chair (2013-2015) of the Regional Studies Association (UK). Since 2001, he has been the Southeast Asia Representative on the Commonwealth Geographical Bureau Management Committee.

Professor Yeung is frequently invited with full/partial funding to speak at international conferences, workshops, and symposiums. Between 1995 and July 2024, he made over 123 invited trips to speak in such diverse regions as the Americas: US(12), Canada(3), Brazil(1), and St. Lucia(1); Europe: Ireland(3), Denmark(3), Finland(1), Germany(6), Hungary(2), Italy(1), Slovenia(1), Spain(3), Sweden(2), Switzerland(1), the Netherlands(2), and the UK(16); the Middle East: Dubai(1); and the Asia Pacific: Australia(6), China(17), Hong Kong(14), Japan(4), Macau(1), Malaysia(4), New Zealand(2), the Philippines (1), South Korea(6), Taiwan(6), and Thailand(2), and international webinars (5). In the public domain, he has done consultancy work for Samsung Electronics, the Ministry of Trade and Industry, Singapore Government, the Central Policy Unit, Hong Kong SAR Government, Asian Development Bank Institute, the UNCTAD, and the Commonwealth Secretariat. His comments have been quoted in The Economist (London), Forbes Asia (New York), The Financial Times (London), Agence France Presse (Beijing), Business Times (Singapore), Straits Times (Singapore), The Standard (Hong Kong), CNBC Live (Hong Kong), and CFO Asia (Hong Kong). He also gave invited presentations to major policy makers, such as the Managing Director of International Monetary Fund (Nov 2017) and Deputy Director-General of World Trade Organization and former EU Commissioner for Trade at the 2023 Heckscher-Ohlin Conference in Stockholm (May 2023).

As of end 2024, over 5,300 publications listed in the ISI Web of Science Core Collection databases cited his work (excluding self-citations; h-index = 38). Some 300 of these citing papers were annually published in recent years. Altogether, his work has now been cited over 8,000 times by the same set of ISI WoS publications (28,000 citations on Google Scholar). The ISI Web of Science database shows that he has 2 books (2015 OUP and 2016 Cornell UP) and 19 journal papers each receiving over 100 citations. Six of these publications are highly cited, with 284 to 1,176 citations each. In Elsevier's Scopus database, he has 1 book and 7 papers (3 single/lead-authored) each with Field Weighted Citation Impact (FWCI) value of 20 or higher – defined in NUS as a “home run” work. A November 2020 study (updated in September 2022) of the top two percent of scientists in the world, led by Stanford University's Dr John Ioannidis, created a database of near 160,000 top world scientists in 22 scientific fields and 176 sub-fields on the basis of standardised citation indicators in Scopus database (reported in NUS Business School news, 6 November 2020). Based on the composite indicator for career-long impact, he was ranked 13th among 15,090 authors in the field of Geography and 8,646th among all 195,605 top scientists in the Sept 2022 updated database. Earlier in 2010 and on the basis of the age-weighted h-index, he was ranked first in a listing of top 50 cited human geographers in the world published in the Journal of Economic Geography (2010, Vol.10).
